4. [redacted] met with Mr. Sullivan, Senator Daniel Brewster, and advised him of our discussion of the Army regarding the Senator's inquiry to the Pentagon.

25X1

[redacted] I advised Sullivan as to how Army was (see Journal of 23 June) and that we would be glad to provide information for the Senator which he may desire with regard to General's association with us. Sullivan thanked me for being up to date on this.

5. [redacted] Delivered to Robert M. Internal Security Subcommittee staff, the corrected transcript of testimony of [redacted] on the subject of Soviet espionage and assassinations.

Remarks: Attached is the transcript of the [redacted] testimony which, I am sure, you have been awaiting with baited breath. In addition to reviewing this transcript for deletions and correction [redacted] has asked if we could give them anything further on this subject of trial in absentia (clipped on page 64). I advised that on this subject, as well as several others on which [redacted] commented, he was really not in a position to speak with authority and added that while I would raise this for any further comment [redacted] might have, suggested that the Subcommittee ask the Library of Congress to research question of legal aspects of Soviet trial in absentia.
